St. Anselms

Our Patron Saint

St. Anselm came from a noble Lombard family and was born in 1033 AD Aosta in the Italian Alps. His mother was a good and pious Burgundian woman, but after her death his father's violence and harshness finally caused Anselm to flee to France. Here after several years of wandering, he took the Benedictine habit in 1060 at Bee (Normandy), where his illustrious countryman Bl. Lanfrance had started the famous school and soon he was outstanding for his learning. Within three years he was made Prior and after another 15 years, very reluctantly, Abbot.

As abbot, St. Anselm had to cross over to England from time to time in connection with his Abbey's English properties, and there he became known and highly esteemed for his virtues and fearless zeal. So much so that in 1099 he was made Archbishop of Canterbury in the hope that he would be able to cope with the encroachments of King William of England

Many important writings of this gentle Prelate, who was considered the greatest intellectual of his age and a patron for all theologians' were composed during his two banishments. They earned him the title of 'Father of scholasticism' and 'Doctor of the Universal Church' (1720) on account of the deep and lasting influence which his thinking has had upon philosophy and theology.

When the French Capuchin Fathers came to Ajmer they found St. Anselm as the most appropriate saint to be the patron of their new school. They adopted the saint's motto for the school. "DEO AMABILES ET HOMINIBUS" which means: 'Be pleasing to God and to man.' St. Anselm's School, Phulera hopes to make all its students always pleasing to God and fellow men.

Prayer: 'O Lord , our God, Grant us the grace to desire you with our whole heart, that in desiring you we may seek and find you, that finding you we may love you, and loving you we may despise the sins from which you have redeemed us.'

Our Vision

St. Anselm's School, Phulera dreams of a society where everyone is educated, free from all man-made differences and equipped to be a global citizen, especially with sensitivity towards the poor and the marginalised.

Our Mission:

St. Anselm's School, Phulera aims at the education which touches every periphery of human life and prepares the students to be socially responsible, emotionally balanced, intellectually alert and physically fit. We work for the character formation of every student in such a way that they be able to be part of any society yet remain unscathed by the vices of the society and thus be pleasing to God and man.

Problem Solving

Risk-Taking

Passion

From the Principal's Desk

St. Anselm's School is happy to provide a safe and intellectually challenging environment that will empower students to become innovative thinkers, creative problem solvers and inspired learners prepared to thrive in the twenty-first century. High standards and expectations for each student regarding academic performance, co-curricular participation, and responsible citizenship are the foundation of our school. It is with pride, that we hold these high standards and ask each of our students to commit to maintaining the extraordinary record of achievement. Full participation in academic and co-curricular programs and a willingness to act responsibly as an individual within our educational environment are the factors that enable all to have a successful and enjoyable year.

The teachers have to be committed to create opportunities for intellectual risk-taking, collaboration, problem-solving, and application of classroom learning to real-life situations. They implement strategies that promote the learning of the students of this institution. They also collaborate with colleagues to share and discuss exemplary practices, interpret student performance data, and design assessments that promote twenty-first-century skills.

The children are given moral training to communicate in a meaningful way for a variety of purposes and audiences. They are to develop critical and creative thinking skills to solve problems. They are also encouraged to pose questions, examine possibilities, and apply skills to find solutions to authentic issues. All these educational systems help the students to make positive choices related to physical and mental wellness and finally their educational caliber results in contributing to the local and global community collaboratively and respectfully.

From this humble beginning, we need to move forward with greater zeal and enthusiasm to fulfill the dream of educating students who are the builders of tomorrow's India. My humble request to all our parents and well-wishers to pray for the management so that under the patronage of Saint Anselm, like him our students may grow in wisdom and character and accomplish the goal they aspire.

Fr. Siju K.C.
Principal
